FLOOD DAMAGES.

Yuma, Arizona, Almost Entirely Destroyed.

ONE HUNDRED HOUSES RUINED.

The Railroads Washed Away and Telegraphic Communication Cut Off from the Outside World for Several Days. Floods Elsewhere.

TUCSON, Ariz., Feb. 26.—Telegraphic communication has just been established between here and Yuma, Ariz., having been cut off for several days by the heavy floods. That town, which is on the Colorado and Gila rivers in the extreme southwestern part of the territory, has been visited by a terrible disaster. The dispatch from Yuma says: The work of strengthening the levees against the swollen Gila river, began on the night of Saturday, was continued with energy Sunday, the citizens being pressed into service. The river continued to rise at the rate of a foot an hour and it was found necessary to take the convicts from the penitentiary to assist the workers. It finally became apparent that the levee, which was old and weak, could not be strengthened sufficiently to withstand the river, and the people began moving their effects.

At 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon the levee broke and in an hour and a half the town was entirely under water. The hastily-constructed embankment of earth and sacks of flour prevented the flow of the river, but many acres were flooded, and the air was filled with the noise of falling walls and screams of women and children. The water was ten feet deep in some places. Many persons had not time to get out their furniture and lost everything. Over a hundred houses were ruined.

An American named Gus. Lee was drowned, but no other loss of life occurred. The railroad and telegraph offices were flooded out. The levee on the Colorado side was finally cut.

The business of the town was destroyed, consisting of a machine shop, saddlery, four saloons, three general stores, two drug stores, Times newspaper, two butcher shops and a Chinese wash house. The people are camped on the hills, and the United States quartermaster's building have been thrown open to the flood sufferers. There is much destitution, but no suffering as yet, there being provisions in the town sufficient for a week. The board of trade meeting Monday made liberal donations for the sufferers. A relief committee was organized by the citizens, and at several stores goods are given to all applying.

The country east of Yuma is all under water as far as heard from. Meager reports say that the loss of property and live stock in the Gila valley is very heavy. Reports have reached town of another storm. There have been no trains through since Monday. The bridge across the Colorado is safe.

THE CALIFORNIA STORM.

A Vast Amount of Damage Done to Railway and Other Property.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 26.—Reports received from the different parts of the state show that the storm has abated. Serious damage has been done to railroad property, especially in the southern part of the state. Soledad canyon, on the line entering Los Angeles from this city, is in as bad condition as last year. Much of the new and costly work which required ten months to complete, has suffered from the storm. The pile work of the bridge west of Los Angeles has been badly wrecked, two hundred feet of the bridge carried away and the track washed out. The entrance to the tunnel at Canyon has also been damaged.

On the Yuma division eight bents of the big bridge were destroyed, and the track is six feet out of the line in many places. A bridge situated near Monte Pomena and Cynunonga three wash-outs have occurred. East of Colton 250 feet of the track, round house and everything movable, has been swept away by the waters. Many of the bridges between Benning and Colton has been weakened and made dangerous traveling.

The Santa Ana branch of the track is under water for long stretches while some parts of the road has been swept entirely away. South of Downey street, the new railroad bridge was destroyed and the town itself flooded. Between Seven Palms and Yuma the track is in a very dangerous condition, and over three miles of the rails have disappeared. Nearly 200 miles of wire are down between Seven Palms and Yuma and nothing definite can be learned of the condition of the track.

The Sunset route will likely be inoperative for a week and no tickets to New Orleans will be sold for the present. Washouts have occurred on the Atlantic and Pacific near Barstow and the sale of tickets over this route, via Mojave, have been suspended for a week.

The Central Pacific route being in good condition passengers will be sent east by that line.

Six Lives Lost in the Flood.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 26.—Reports received here show that at least six persons have lost their lives by the flood of the past few days and perhaps many more who have not been accounted for have perished. The worst of the flood was at Downey and vicinity. The old and new Gabriel rivers broke from their banks and ran together, making a great sea six to ten miles wide and seventeen miles long. Many houses have been swept away and their occupants are missing.

Floods in Mississippi.

WEST POINT, Miss., Feb. 26.—The Tombigbee river is on a tear from the late twenty-day rain and the whole country for many miles on each side of the river is flooded. Great damage has been done to stocks and crops, and many houses have been swept away. The eastern part of the state is under water and the damage has been enormous. It has rained almost constantly for the past twenty days.

Great Loss to Lumber Mills.

SUNNER, Ill., Feb. 26.—The Embarras river is overflowing its banks and has already gone above high water mark. Large rafts of logs have been separated, causing great loss to lumber mills. Great efforts are being made to save stock in the bottom lands. Farmers are being driven from their homes which are now surrounded by water.

Fearful Hail Storm.

VIRGINIA, Ill., Feb. 26.—A severe rain and hail storm visited this section yesterday afternoon and evening. The ground during the progress of the hail storm was completely covered with hail stones to the depth of four inches in places and at times the hailing resembled the roar of an artillery during a battle. The streets in the evening were streams of running water. The crops will be damaged.

The Ohio River at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 26.—The Ohio river reached 57 feet 4 inches and became stationary. It is still falling at Portsmouth. The temperature is falling here and clearing weather is expected, so that there is a general belief that the river has reached its highest limit.

Using Rafts at Kalamazoo, Mich.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Feb. 26.—The high waters of the Kalamazoo river have inundated a portion of the east side and much damage has been done. Rafts are used by many in going to and from their houses.

GROWING CRITICAL.

The Most Exciting Day Yet in the Consecutive Strike.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 26.—A special to The Times from Scottsdale, Pa., says: Yesterday was another exciting day of the coke strike. Between 2,000 and 3,000 foreign and American strikers held another mass meeting on the outskirts of Vanderbilt, adjoining Rainey's works. The object of the meeting was to force the reluctant employees of Rainey to strike, either by fair or desperate means. They must have succeeded, as hardly a man of the 500 or 600 employees of Rainey's two plants are at work.

The strikers, according to previous arrangement, marched to the meeting in two directions. One group came by the way of the Fort Hill works, where they raided and routed the few men who were at work. About the same time a howling aggregation of strikers, estimated at 1,500 or 2,000, descended on the Paull plant where a few men were at work. These were compelled to beat a hasty retreat. Mine Boss Louden wanted to go back to the mine again and got ex-Secretary McCracken, of the Knights of Labor local assembly at Vanderbilt, to steer him. When they reached the mob they were at once captured and beaten numerically.

McCracken was hit on the head with a club and seriously wounded. A Hungarian deliberately aimed and snatched a revolver at him, but it failed to discharge. A number of Paull works' drivers, who were carrying rifles, were seized by the strikers and forced to surrender. Sheriff McCormick, of Uniontown, has been notified of the danger of an outbreak, and he with a force of able assistants are reported as being en route to the scene.

A BIG BLIZZARD.

Worst of the Season Howling in Kansas and Vicinity.

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 26.—Probably what will prove to be the severest blizzard of the season is raging in Kansas. It commenced late yesterday afternoon, when the cold wave of the previous day became intensified.

The thermometer dropped to 10 degrees above zero, and a high wind came up from the northwest. At 7 o'clock it began to snow, and the snow developed into a blinding blizzard. Dispatches from southern Kansas state that a "norther" is raging in the Cherokee strip, and that intense suffering will be experienced by the foolhardy boomers who not only have invaded the strip contrary to law, but went into the barren country wholly unprepared for any emergency such as the present.

There are fully 3,000 boomers in the strip, and they are equipped with the meager comforts afforded in the furniture of a "prairie schooner." Most of them are scantily provisioned, and with only wagon covers for shelter they will experience great suffering.

Death at a Prize Fight.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 26.—There was a prize fight at Nelsonville Tuesday night between Dave Seville, of this city, and Tom Tracey, of Toledo. When time was called for the nineteenth round Tracey, who was getting the worst of it, came forward and said: "I cannot see any longer; hit me if you want to," whereupon Seville smashed him in the jaw, breaking his neck. Yesterday afternoon Seville and Tom Tracey, one of his seconds, were placed under arrest here.

Firemen Overcome by Smoke.

MONTREAL, Feb. 26.—Thirty-two stalls in the Bonsecours market were destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon entailing a loss of about $30,000 with only $10,000 insurance. Intense excitement was caused during the progress of the fire by the removal of twenty-one firemen from the building in an unconscious state from the denseness of the smoke. All the men were taken to the hospital where it was said they would recover.

One Out, Another In.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 26.—In the assembly yesterday, the report of the majority of the contested seats committee on the Dwyer-Dunlap contest in Montgomery county, was adopted by a strict party vote and Dunlap, Republican, the sitting member, was unseated.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Latest Information Gathered at the National Capital.

PROCEEDINGS OF CONGRESS.

Both the Senate and House Held Only Short Sessions and Adjourned as a Mark of Respect to the Late Senator Wilson. Internal Revenue Collections—Secretary Foster Arrives in Washington and Will Soon Assume His Official Duties. Other Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—In the senate yesterday resolutions of sorrow, at the death of Senator Wilson, of Maryland, were passed and after a few remarks the senate as a mark of respect adjourned.

For the second time in its history the house held two distinct legislative sessions in the one calendar day.

The house adopted a resolution making the shipping bill a special order for Thursday and Friday, the previous question to be considered as ordered at 5 o'clock Friday evening.

The immigration bill was passed, and the house then went into committee of the whole on the agricultural appropriation bill. Without disposing of the bill the committee rose. The death of Senator Wilson was announced, and after eulogistic remarks the house adjourned.

Having adjourned at 5 o'clock, met again at 8 o'clock. Mr. Burrows, of Michigan, occupied the chair. Mr. Dingley, of Maine, submitted the report of the silver pool investigation committee, and it was ordered printed. Mr. Dingley giving notice that he would call it up for action at the earliest opportunity.

The house then went into committee of the whole on the agricultural appropriation bill. That the congress was drawing to a close was manifest. Every member who addressed the chair was laughed at, cheered and applauded by his colleagues, irrespective of party lines. The disorder was great and incessant, and the chair was utterly unable to prevent it. Again and again he appealed to members to preserve order, but his appeals were unavailing. As the hour grew later the proceedings became more noisy and it was with extreme difficulty that the chairman preserved a semblance of order.

The consideration of the agricultural bill having been concluded the committee of the whole resumed the consideration of the general deficiency bill.

The house passed the agricultural bill, but without disposing of the general deficiency bill at 11:30 adjourned.

Senator Wilson's Funeral.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Services over the body of Senator Wilson will be held at the Hamilton house at 10 o'clock to-day. Rev. Dr. Bartlett, of the New York Avenue Presbyterian church, will be the officiating clergyman, assisted by Dr. Butler, the chaplain of the senate. The services will be brief and at their conclusion the body will be taken under escort of capital policemen, to the Pennsylvania railroad station whence the funeral train will leave at 11 o'clock, arriving at Snow Hill, the late senator's home, at 6 p. m. The interment will be at Snow Hill on Friday.

Internal Revenue Collections.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—A statement prepared by Internal Commissioner Mason shows that for the first seven months of the current fiscal year the collections from internal revenue amounted to $87,000,184, an increase on over the same months last year of $7,487,412. The principal items of increase were: Spirits, $3,519,942; tobacco, $1,881,172; fermented liquors $1,890,060; oleomargarine, $100,000. The collections for January, 1891, were $87,794 greater than for January, 1890.

Duty on Wool Waste.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—The treasury department has by advice of Attorney General Miller concluded to appeal the case of O. N. Purdy and A. W. Beard, involving the classification of wool rug waste, decided adversely to the government in the Ohio courts, to the supreme court of the United States. The Ohio court held that the wool waste was dutiable at the rate of ten cents per pound, while the government holds it is dutiable at the rate of sixty cents per pound.

Foster Arrives in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Secretary Charles Foster arrived in Washington at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon on the congressional limited. He is expected to assume his duties as secretary of the treasury at once.

GOING FURTHER WEST.

An Exodus of Many Families from Central Illinois.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Feb. 26.—The largest exodus from central Illinois, in its history, perhaps, occurred yesterday. At 6 o'clock last night about 150 people, comprising twenty-five families, left McLean county on three trains of thirty-three cars, of which seven were passenger coaches, taking with them their household goods, farm implements and live stock. Two trains go to Webster City, Iowa, and the other is bound for Nebraska.

The emigrants comprise some of the best citizens of this section. They are induced to leave because of the cheap lands of other states. A large proportion of them were renters, although many sold their farms. At this city the following additions were made to the lowa trains: Farmer City, one car; De Witt, one; Seymour, two; Gibson, four; Arrowsmith, one; Melvin, one. These cars were accompanied by forty people. After leaving Bloomington one car was added at El Paso, one at Miounek, and one at LaSalle, with twenty people. The trains take from the state in all about 200 persons.

NOVA SCOTIA MINE DISASTER.

People Busy Recovering and Burying the Bodies of the Dead Men.

SPRING HILL, MINES, N. S., Feb. 26.—The work of recovering bodies in the wrecked mine proceeded all night, and a number were brought up after midnight.

At the cemetery 150 people are digging graves. Several graves were being made large enough to hold two or three bodies, and are intended for those of the dead who were relatives or who belonged to the same families. A large grave sixteen feet square had been dug for the strangers.

About sixty of the bodies of the victims of the Spring Hill colliery disaster were buried yesterday. The bodies were all taken to the Methodist church, where brief services were held over a dozen at a time, and thence the coffins were carried in open conveyances to the little cemetery at the foot of the hills a few miles distant.

From 10 o'clock until 4 the road was crowded with the procession. The ground was frozen so solid that the work of digging graves was exceedingly difficult. Early yesterday morning a little army was set to work, and before evening 105 graves had been dug and half of them filled in. The briefest possible form of service would be held and a body interred, while men four feet away never ceased work in completing another trench. There are between forty and fifty bodies to be interred to-day. A dozen yet remain in the pit.

A particularly touching case was that of Malcom Nevada. He returned from Boston only a month ago with his young bride of three months, a Boston girl. He went to work in the mine with his father and brother, and all were killed. The young widow frantically pleaded with the searching party to find the body of her husband. In response they made special exertions and recovered the remains.

The mayor yesterday received a telegram from Queen Victoria which reads as follows: "Her majesty has heard with much regret of the Spring Hill colliery disaster, and desires to convey an expression of sympathy with the injured and with the relatives of those who have lost their lives."

BASE BALL INTELLIGENCE.

An Important Meeting to Be Held in Columbus, O.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 26.—At the recent meeting of the American Association in New York city, a committee on constitution and by-laws was appointed, with powers to secure from the deposed president, A. W. Thorman, all books, documents and funds belonging to the Association now in Thorman's possession. Mr. Von der Ahe, as chairman of that committee, has called the meeting to take place at Columbus to-day at 2 o'clock, at the Neil house.

The other members of the committee are Zach. Phelps, Al. Johnson, Frank Elliott, of Philadelphia; Edwin Sutherland, of Washington, and the president of the Association, Louis Kramer, of Cincinnati. The committee will at once set in revising the constitution and by-laws, and by the time they finish their labors the Association will be in readiness for the season's work.

Cincinnati's League Club.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 25.—Capt. Auson, of the Chicago League base ball club, has signed for the Cincinnati League club Marr, McPhee and Reilly, and will probably get Holliday and Mullane. All these were signed by Al. Johnson last fall to play with the Brotherhood, and they now claim that as the Brotherhood is a thing of the past their old contracts are worthless.

THE ILLINOIS DEADLOCK.

Four More Ballots Taken and the Senatorial Contest Still Undecided.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 26.—Four ballots were taken for senator yesterday, each resulting in 101 votes for Palmer. A half dozen of the Republicans were absent, and those present formed a no-vote combination with the F. M. B. A. members, leaving the joint assembly without a quorum.

After the first ballot a Republican member moved an adjournment, but the motion was defeated. Finally the Democrats made a motion to adjourn and it was carried.

After the adjournment of the joint assembly a committee of Republican members presented to Speaker Crafts a petition signed by the Republican members asking that the committees be at once appointed and the house meet at 10 o'clock each morning so that the general business can proceed and the whole term not be taken up by the senatorial contest. Speaker Crafts said he would ascertain the feeling among members enough to constitute a majority, and if they thought the time had come for the appointment of the committees the speaker would not stand in the way of it being done. He promised to give the committee an answer in a few days.

JUMPED INTO THE OHIO.

Meridith Stanley Leaps Into the Ragging River at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 26.—Meridith Stanley, the bridge jumper, yesterday leaped from the Newport bridge into the surging Ohio, a distance of sixty-five feet. It was his intention to leap in a similar manner from all the four bridges spanning the river here, but he was promptly arrested and taken before the chief of police. Stanley was detained only a few minutes in Col. Deitsch's office. A consultation was held with Judge Ernst, who said he knew of no possible charge that could be preferred against Stanley.

In some states there are laws against attempt at suicide, but as Ohio has no such provision Chief Deitsch was constrained to let Stanley go with a friendly warning.

Stanley says that he has abandoned river-leaping, unless some day, under more favorable auspices, he may again attempt a series of leaps from the quartet of bridges.

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1891.

CONGRESSMAN PAYNTER was the only Democratic member from this State to vote in favor of the Direct Tax bill, which passed the House this week.

FOSTER'S storm and cold wave was on time, and is just about what he predicted weeks ago. Uncle Sam's Signal Service Bureau came out yesterday with a warning of the storm after the wave had traveled nearly across the continent. Great is the Signal Service Bureau!

If the Direct Tax bill which was put through the House the other day should pass the Senate and be approved by President Harrison, it will take $15,000,000 out of the National treasury. Of this, Kentucky will get $600,000. The measure is to refund a tax collected from the various States in 1861 for war purposes. An act to refund the money was passed in 1888, but was promptly vetoed by President Cleveland.

In its account of Meredith Stanley's leap yesterday from the L. and N. bridge at Cincinnati, the Covington Post says: "At 9 a. m., accompanied by two trusty friends, Stanley made a survey of the river front. The river swelled to the abnormal stage of fifty-seven feet three inches, and overflowed its banks at many places for thousands of feet."

If the bridge leaper has that effect on the river, we hope he will keep away from Maysville.

COLONEL W. C. P. BRECKINRIDGE says: "Considered as a whole, I think the Democrats are not disposed to put the silver question forward as one of the most important importance. They consider it an economic question which can be safely settled later. The principal plank will be tariff reform, and with that as the main plank in the platform Grover Cleveland will be re-nominated and re-elected President."

This is quite different from the views of Senator Blackburn, but the latter never has had much love for Cleveland.

JUDGE BOYD, of Southeastern Kentucky, is down on the professional juror. "A man without any business," said he recently, "is not fit for a jurymen. There are some people who think they can refuse to serve on a jury simply because they have business. Business men are the kind of jurymen we want, and when a man gives as an excuse for not answering a summons that he has business on hand, it is worse than no excuse at all." The Judge's views are to the point. The "professional" juror can be spotted in every court room. He should be made to step aside for the business man whose interest it is to aid the courts in executing the law.

COMMONWEALTH'S ATTORNEYS

An Effort Being Made in the Constitutional Convention to Abolish the Office.

The constitutional convention took up the report on executive and ministerial offices for counties and districts yesterday. The subject of Commonwealth's Attorneys was the first considered. There was a lively discussion and an effort is being made to abolish the office and have County Attorneys attend to criminal prosecutions hereafter.

Mr. Martin, of Harrison, thinks it will be better to have the County Attorney to do all the prosecuting, both in point of securing justice and from an economical standpoint.

Mr. Whitaker, of Mason, also favors the one attorney for each county. He says the County Attorney always knows the witnesses in every case, and generally is acquainted with all the facts. By the present plan the Prosecuting Attorney, he says, never investigates cases till the term of court at which the case is to be called. He therefore thinks that justice would be more efficiently meted out. He says there would be no difficulty in getting a competent man to serve in each county.

Mr. Strauss, of Bullitt, was for the present system and regarded it as the best, from every standpoint.

Mr. Lassing, of Boone, also defended the present system. He says many of the counties of the State have no lawyer of sufficient ability to perform the duties of the office.

Mr. DeHaven, of Oldham, said he sympathized with the idea of economy, but the great and crying want is efficiency. He thought that if the present system was swapped off for a prosecutor in each county the administration of criminal justice will become a solemn farce. In speaking on the question of salaries, he said the district will be very much circumscribed, and that the Legislature will not, perhaps, fix the salary larger than $1,500. The present salary is $2,500.

The question was still under discussion at the adjourning hour last evening.

LOCAL LEGISLATION.

The Constitutional Convention Places a Limit on Such Work.

Section 49 of the Chapter on Legislation, as adopted by the Constitutional convention, will put a stop to future Legislatures wasting time on local or special acts.

The section says: "The General Assembly shall not pass local or special acts concerning any of the following subjects, or for any of the following purposes, namely:

"Nineteenth—To authorize officers to appoint deputies or creating, increasing or decreasing fees, per centages or allowances to public officials, or extending time for the collection thereof.

"Twentieth—To give any person or corporation the right to lay down a railroad track or tramway, or to amend existing charters for such purpose.

"To provide for the protection of fish and game.

"To regulate labor, trade, mining or manufacturing.

"To provide a means of taking the sense of the people of any city, town, district, precinct or county, whether they wish to authorize, regulate or prohibit therein the sale of viscous, spirituous or malt liquors, or to alter the liquor laws, or to pass any act with reference thereto.

"Restoring to citizenship persons convicted of infamous crimes.

"In all cases where a general law is applicable no special law shall be enacted."

The matters above prohibited, it is contemplated, shall be regulated by general laws.

Several years ago Chamberlain & Co., of Des Moines, Iowa, commenced the manufacture of a rough syrup, believing it to be the most prompt and reliable preparation yet produced for coughs, colds and croup; that the public appreciate true merit, and in time it was certain to become popular. Their most sanguine hopes have been more than realized. Over three hundred thousand bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy are now sold each year, and it is recognized as "the best made," where ever known. It will cure a severe cold in less time than any other treatment. For sale by Power & Reynolds, druggists.

A BRITISH ARMY OFFICER HELD AT BAY BY THREE TIGERS.

The Striped Beasts Play All Around Him—Armed, but Too Nervous to Hit One of the Man Enters—The Death Cry of His Horse Attracts His Friends.

"Tell you the most exciting adventure of my life!" said Lieut. Charles F. Stewart, formerly of her majesty's army in the India service, but now a resident of Birmingham, Ala. "Well, I met with quite a number of more or less thrilling adventures hunting lions and tigers in the jungles, but only once did I lose all hope. I shall never forget that hunt; in fact, I shudder every time I think of it. Two other officers, English visitors in India, and myself went into the interior for a tiger hunt. We camped near a large jungle, where tigers were reported by the natives to be plentiful. We had three servants with us, and in addition employed a dozen natives, several of whom had much experience in tiger hunting.

"The first day in the jungle we killed a young tiger, and then we hunted four days without catching sight of another. We would spend the day beating through the jungle and return to our camp at night. There was plenty of smaller game, but we were out for tiger or nothing. The sixth day out we went into a portion of the jungle where it was not so dense, and we could make our way on horseback very well. We kept pretty well together until noon, but found no game. At noon we stopped to eat a cold lunch, and, as it was extremely hot, the others of the party decided to rest for two hours before they proceeded.

"IN A BAD PREDICAMENT. "While the others were resting I mounted my horse and rode alone toward a small stream a short distance to the right of our camp. Along the bank the jungle was so dense that my horse could not get through. I turned to go back to camp, but had advanced only a few steps when my horse stopped with a loud snort of terror. I looked ahead, and there, not more than 100 feet away, were three of the largest tigers I ever saw. They were standing still, and seemed undecided whether to attack us or to run away. My horse was trembling with fright and I could not move him forward or backward. I raised my gun to shoot, then lowered it again, for I realized that if I killed or crippled one of the beasts the others would be upon me before I could fire again.

"The tigers seemed still undecided what to do, and I shouted at them as hard as I could, thinking possibly I might frighten them away. At the sound of my voice the beasts lashed their tails and began to play about like huge cats, but all the time they were advancing toward me. For a few seconds I was thinking very fast, trying to decide on some plan of action. I thought of urging my horse forward and riding right past them as rapidly as possible. I buried my spurs in my horse's sides, but he would not move. Every moment the frightful looking beasts were coming nearer and nearer.

"Now they were creeping and gliding through the tall grass, just as a cat creeps upon a bird. I thought of another plan, and lost no time in putting it into effect. Bending forward I removed my feet from the stirrups, raised myself out of the saddle and slipped along the back of the horse until I dropped to the ground. The horse was now between me and the tigers, and if he would only stand still until they sprang upon him I might be able to escape unnoticed during the struggle I knew would follow. My horse seemed paralyzed with fear, and I began slowly backing away.

"CLASPED BY THE BEASTS. "I had not gone ten feet when I saw three great tawny bodies rise in the air and come down on the back and neck of my poor horse. When the horse felt the sharp teeth and claws tearing into his flesh he gave one long, piteous, almost human cry and then began to struggle for his life. Taking advantage of this struggle I was getting away as fast as possible. I saw my horse go down with the tigers tearing at his throat and sides, and I knew the struggle would soon be over. For a moment I felt I was safe, and turning I started on a run toward camp. After running a few steps I looked back, and to my horror, saw one of the tigers coming bounding after me. His hideous jaws were covered with blood and his eyes gleamed like balls of fire.

"I turned and raised my rifle, but before I could pull the trigger I saw the other two tigers leave the dead horse and come bounding toward me. Then I lost hope. Great drops of perspiration rolled down my face, and my knees were so weak I could scarcely stand. I determined to risk a shot at the first tiger anyway, and reduce the fearful odds I had to contend against. I fired, but my nerves were too weak, and I missed. At the sound of the shot all three of the beasts stopped for a moment, then they began creeping forward for a spring.

"I said a prayer of some kind and gave myself up for lost. It seemed to me I stood there an age watching those angry beasts creeping nearer and nearer. My nerves were about to give way entirely under the terrible strain when I heard a noise behind me. A moment later a deafening volley of rifle shots, and then I sank to the ground in a faint. The cry of my horse had been heard at the camp, and half a dozen of the native hunters were sent out to see if I was in trouble. They came up just in time, and the well aimed shots from their heavy rifles killed all three of the beasts."—Elmira Telegram.

A Card From V. S. King.

Editor Bulletin: I wish to give a true statement, through the columns of your paper, of the accident which happened to Carr & Tolle's bus on Monday, February 16th. I was driving down the Maysville hill, very heavily loaded. Mr. L. Long was driving just in front of me. I followed at him two or three times to give me the road. He did not pull out of the pike, but stopped directly in front of the bus. I tried to check my horses, but the lead horse struck the wheel with his foot, upset the buggy and threw Mr. Long out. He was not hurt however. I drove into town, told the proprietors of the accident which I could not avoid. I received a severe cursing, and they kept back $20 of my wages to make themselves safe to "settle promptly the damage done to Mr. Long's buggy," the amount with their sending for the buggy, toll and repairs being $5.00, which was charged to me.

Quicklime Will Remove Hair.

Depilatories are very dangerous remedies unless kept in the hands of very careful persons. Nearly all forms of depilatories depend upon some form of sulphides of the alkaline earths. Probably the safest among the effective ones is made from the ordinary quicklime. It should be slaked with two parts of water and then saturated with freshly made sulphureted hydrogen. This mixture must be used within a few days after it is made. Care must always be taken to see that the paste does not cover more surface than it is necessary to free from hair. It is also a wise precaution to spread but a small space at a time, and when this is deprived of hair treat a fresh portion of the surface.—New York Journal.

Sudden Death of a Public Speaker.

A man, whose brother had been hanged, on being asked in relation to the death of the deceased, stated that "while he was addressing a large outdoor assemblage of people, who were listening to his remarks with the deepest interest, a portion of the platform on which he was standing gave way beneath him, whereby he was precipitated several feet with such violence as to break his neck."—New York Ledger.

The Way They Do It.

Manager—Have you learned your part of the libretto of the new opera?

Manager—Oh, that's all right then. Just sing la-la-la-la, and no one will know the difference.—Munsey's Weekly.

About Business Letters.

A business letter is a curious specimen of literary art. Brevity is its salient feature—its weakness and its strength at the same time. One always feels that the man who wrote it was terribly pressed for time, and was over anxious to economize on paper and ink. The sentences are short and snappy. Fantastic and unauthorized abbreviations fill it. Personal pronouns are eliminated on every occasion—in fact, sense and form are immolated on the altar of brevity—and the result is a letter which is as free from padding as a linen hamper-chief.

The portentous "Gents" with which it is often begun, and trite "Yours truly" with which it is always concluded are characteristic of the contents.—Buffalo Express.

No Difference Perceptible.

Jones—Very stupid girl, that Miss Wilph. Smith—How so?
"Why, you see we were guessing conundrums the other evening, and I asked her what was the difference between myself and a donkey."
"Well?"
"Well? Why, by Jove, she said she didn't know."
"Well, as far as that goes, I don't either."—Texas Sittings.

ON A STEEP GRADE

A Fast Train Meets With a Terrible Accident

AT HAGERSTOWN, INDIANA.

Three Persons Instantly Killed, Three Mortally Wounded, Two Seriously, Possibly Fatally, and a Large Number of Others More or Less Injured—A List of the Victims.

RICHMOND, Ind., Feb. 26.—A terrible accident occurred on the Richmond division of the Pan-Handle railroad at Hagerstown, sixteen miles from the city, at 3:50 yesterday afternoon, in which three persons were instantly killed and three mortally wounded, two seriously, possibly fatally, and a large number more or less injured.

It was the fast train between Chicago and Cincinnati, which was coming down a steep grade into the town, when the frame work of the engine, No. 494, in charge of W. W. Bartlett, engineer, and Noah Dunn, fireman, broke and derailed every car. However, they passed the station and came to the canal bridge, where there is a fifteen foot fall, before the fatality occurred, and where it came near proving even more terrible, as the cars caught fire, but the fire was quickly extinguished.

The smoker first turned on its side and the day coach and parlor car "Eugenia," the smoking compartment of which contained all the killed, breaking away from the smoking car, but holding together, rolled over twice in their descent of the embankment. Meantime the derailed baggage car had lunged to the engine, and away beyond the other cars, struck a guard at the road crossing, again mounted the track and escaped almost unhurt, but the engine, though holding the rail, was about as badly wrecked as the parlor car and day coach.

In leaving the track the cars tore down the telegraph poles, and it was almost impossible to get any accurate news of the accident until the trains arrived here with the dead and wounded. The wrecking crew was gotten out of here as soon as possible, carrying surgeons and assistance of every kind, and a second train was sent up at 6 o'clock with a large number of people.

The following is a list of the killed and injured:
The killed are:
Arthur M. Reeves, capitalist, of Richmond.
S. G. Needham, claim agent of the Richmond division, of Richmond.
Charles B. Case, conductor, of Logansport.

Those mortally wounded are:
Otis F. Deul, engineer, maintenance of way, Richmond division, died at 5:50.
Mrs. George McGrew, of Richmond.
Mrs. J. C. Busin, of Sacramento, Cal.
Those seriously wounded are:
M. Hilb, of West Front street, Cincinnati, contusion of the head and arms.

G. Webster, porter of Pullman car, of Newport, Ky., left ankle dislocated; forehead badly cut.

Infant grandchild of Mrs. McGrew Staub, of Chicago, badly bruised.
John M. Edwards, of Richmond, wounded about the head.

Adam Steinberger and his brother Wiley, of Westville, O., both cut in the back of the head.

Frank W. Eddy, of Westfield, Mass., back badly sprained.

Miss Roth, of Dayton, O., right hand badly cut.

Mrs. C. R. Dudley, of Dayton, O., sister of Miss Roth, severe contusion on the right side.

Mr. and Mrs. Benson, of Logansport, Ind., and their two small children, Herbert and Earl, were badly bruised.

Mrs. Anna Englelechet, of Logansport, and her three children badly shocked.

Henry C. Fox, of Richmond, severe scalp wound and contusion of the spine.

A. H. Kelly, of Richmond, severe cut over the eye.

T. W. Gilpin, of 201 West Fourth street, Philadelphia, in the left arm and injured internally.

John Crocker, of Chicago, contusion of the back and face.

Charles R. Payer, of Richmond, bad cut on head and injured about the hips.

G. H. Edmonds, of Troy, O., cut in the head.

Mrs. Susan Staubaugh, of Trenton, Mo., both hands badly cut.

Sophie Evans, of New Castle, Ind., contusion of arm.

Dora Clark, of New Castle, Ind., contusion of the head.

Clifton Irwin, of Martins Ferry, O., hurt on the foot.

J. P. Stanzee, of Eaton, O., arm badly bruised and right cheek bone broken.

J. W. Karamer, brakeman, of Logansport, Ind., severe scalp wound, left leg badly bruised and contusion on the arm.

Harriet S. Lamblard, of Amherst, Wis., severe contusion in the back of the head.

James T. Bontes, of Richmond, very severe contusion on the left side of the head.

Bob Hodgkin, road foreman of engines, hand scalded and abrasion of legs.

THE COLUMBUS TRAGEDY.

Twenty-Five Witnesses Examined and the Inquest Not Concluded.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 26.—Still the excitement in the terrible tragedy of Monday continues, and the inquest of Coroner Egan is not concluded. Over twenty-five reliable witnesses have been examined, and all agree that W. J. Elliott opened the battle by firing at Al. Osborne when within a few feet of him, and the ball took effect in the chin. It is also evident that the same man killed old man Hughes with his 38-calibre gun.

The most puzzling feature of the inquest is that the same 38-calibre revolver, which W. J. Elliott admits using, cannot be found or traced. The missing revolver was first thought to be Osborne's, but the weapon used by that party was turned over to a police officer. It is a well founded belief that W. J. Elliott after emptying his deadly double acting Smith and Wesson 38, he threw it down only to be picked up and concealed by friends.

PREACHING PEACE.

The New Italian Prime Minister Doesn't Favor War.

ROME, Feb. 26.—In an interview the Marquis di Rudini, the new Italian prime minister, referred to the deep seated feeling of friendship which Italy feels toward England, and said that his government would cultivate the closest relations with the British people. He meant that Italy should be a pacific force amidst armed Europe. He had assurances that the European cabinets were pleased with his recent declarations in favor of peace.

He trusted that he would be able to remove the ill will of France and re-establish confidence and friendship between this country and Italy, Italy being the element of order in Europe. In conclusion the marquis said that Italy would not seek to enlarge the Italian sphere in Africa. He believed that he would be able to effect the economic recovery of Italy and bring about an equilibrium in the budget by retrenchments in the expenditures. He declared that he would remain faithful to the liberal principles which constituted Italy's strength.

WHO OWNS BIRD ISLAND?

Belts of General John C. Fremont to Press Their Claims.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 26.—The Rev. W. R. Covert, of Findlay, O., has retained counsel to press the claim of himself and the heirs of Gen. John C. Fremont to the ownership of Bird Island in the Bay of San Francisco. The amount involved is estimated at over $10,000,000.

Gen. Fremont, when military governor of California, purchased the island from Mexico. Uncle Sam repudiated the purchase and declined to either buy from the pathfinder or reimburse him. However, the government some years later took possession of the island, which is the key to the San Francisco harbor, and erected fortifications and a light-house upon it at a cost of over $9,000,000.

Gen. Fremont sought relief from congress in vain. Some time before he died, being low in funds, he secured financial aid from the Rev. Mr. Covert, giving therefor an option on a half interest in the island. He intended to press his claim, but death intervened. Mrs. Jessie Benton Fremont and her son will now join in the proceedings before the court of claims.
